

DEFIBRATION

Meaning: Defibrination is the process of removing fibrin from blood to prevent clotting, often used in laboratory sample preparation and research.

1. Defibrination is a critical process in blood sample preparation for laboratory tests.
2. The study examined the effects of defibrination on clotting factors in patients.
3. After defibrination, the blood showed a significant decrease in fibrinogen levels.
4. Medical professionals must understand the implications of defibrination on patient care.
5. Defibrination is often employed in research to analyze the biochemical properties of plasma.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/defibrination>