

DEFLECTIONIZE

Meaning: Deflectionize (verb): to modify a structure or design to reduce or control deflection, thereby enhancing stability and minimizing stress under load.

1. The engineers worked tirelessly to deflectionize the bridge design to enhance its stability under heavy loads.
2. In physics class, we learned how to deflectionize beams to minimize stress and prevent structural failure.
3. Modern architecture often incorporates techniques to deflectionize materials, ensuring they can withstand extreme weather conditions.
4. To improve the performance of the car, the team aimed to deflectionize the chassis for better aerodynamics.
5. The new software tool was specifically designed to help architects deflectionize their models digitally before construction began.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deflectionize>