

DEFLEXURE

Meaning: Deflexure refers to the degree of bending or deformation of a structural element under load.

1. The engineers measured the deflexure of the beam to ensure it met safety standards.
2. In architecture, deflexure can significantly impact the overall stability of a structure.
3. The deflexure observed in the bridge prompted a thorough inspection by the safety committee.
4. Understanding the deflexure of materials helps in predicting their performance under load.
5. She noted the deflexure of the floor underfoot, raising concerns about the building's integrity.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deflexure>