

DEFLUX

Meaning: Deflux (noun): the flow or movement of a liquid, especially water, away from a particular area or source.

1. The engineer designed a new system to manage the deflux of water in the reservoir.
2. As the tide recedes, the deflux of the ocean reveals hidden tide pools along the shore.
3. The scientist noted a significant deflux in the chemical levels after the experiment concluded.
4. To prevent flooding, the city implemented a plan to accelerate the deflux of stormwater.
5. During the winter months, the deflux of the river was closely monitored to ensure safety.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deflux>