

DELIRANT

Meaning: Delirant: exhibiting a disturbed state of mind characterized by confusion, disorientation, and incoherent speech, often due to illness or fever.

1. The patient's delirant state made it difficult for the doctors to assess his actual condition.
2. As the fever set in, she became increasingly delirant, babbling incoherently about past events.
3. His delirant ramblings revealed both his creativity and his struggle with reality.
4. In the midst of a delirant episode, she spoke of visions that seemed both vivid and terrifying.
5. The artist's work during this period was marked by a delirant energy that captivated his audience.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/delirant>