

DEONERATE

Meaning: Deonerate: to absolve or clear someone of blame or guilt after a review of evidence.

1. The committee decided to deonerate the accused after reviewing the new evidence.
2. In an unexpected turn of events, the judge chose to deonerate the defendant, leading to widespread relief.
3. The team worked tirelessly to deonerate their colleague, who had been wrongly implicated in the scandal.
4. After careful consideration, the board voted unanimously to deonerate the project manager from any wrongdoing.
5. Public opinion began to shift as more facts emerged that could deonerate the individual in question.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deonerate>