DEOXIDIZATION

Meaning: Deoxidization is the process of removing oxygen from a substance, particularly to enhance the preservation and durability of metals and alloys.

1. Deoxidization plays a crucial role in the preservation of certain metals during manufacturing processes.
2. The scientist explained that deoxidization is essential for improving the durability of alloys.
3. In the context of environmental science, deoxidization can help in reducing the levels of harmful gases.
4. Researchers are exploring various methods of deoxidization to enhance the efficiency of fuel cells.
5. The process of deoxidization often involves the use of strong reducing agents to remove oxygen.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deoxidization