

DEPOLISH

Meaning: Depolish (verb): to diminish or remove the luster, brightness, or quality of something, often through adverse conditions or negative influences.

1. The harsh weather conditions seemed to depolish the once-bright exterior of the building.
2. Her constant criticism began to depolish his confidence over time.
3. Using the wrong cleaning solution can depolish the surface of delicate furniture.
4. The artist decided to depolish the gloss finish to create a more matte effect in her work.
5. Years of exposure to sunlight can depolish the vibrant colors of outdoor paint.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/depolish>