

DEPRIVABLE

Meaning: Deprivable refers to something that can be taken away or lost, often implying that it is not inherently permanent or guaranteed.

1. Certain resources are deprivable, leading to the need for sustainable management practices.
2. The concept of deprivable happiness suggests that some forms of joy can be fleeting and dependent on circumstances.
3. In a world where many aspects of life are deprivable, we must learn to appreciate what we have.
4. Access to education is often seen as deprivable, especially in underserved communities.
5. The philosopher argued that some rights are inherently deprivable and subject to societal changes.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/deprivable>