

DEPURATION

Meaning: Depuration is the process of removing impurities or contaminants from a substance, particularly water or food products, to ensure safety and purity.

1. The depuration of water before it enters the drinking supply is essential for public health.
2. Scientists are studying the depuration process to understand how contaminants are removed from shellfish.
3. During the depuration phase, the seafood is cleaned to eliminate impurities and toxins.
4. The effectiveness of depuration methods can significantly impact the safety of food products.
5. Local regulations require strict adherence to depuration practices in seafood processing facilities.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/depuration>