

DEPURITION

Meaning: Depuration is the process of removing impurities or contaminants from a substance, particularly in contexts like water purification or chemical preparation.

1. The process of depuration is essential for removing impurities from the water supply.
2. In laboratory settings, depuration is often necessary to ensure that chemicals are free from contaminants.
3. The medical team discussed the importance of depuration in preparing samples for accurate testing.
4. After the depuration process, the substance was deemed safe for consumption.
5. Researchers are exploring new methods of depuration to enhance the effectiveness of drug formulations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/depuration>