

DESPONDENT

Meaning: Despondent: feeling a loss of hope or confidence, often accompanied by deep sadness or dejection.

1. After receiving the disappointing news, she felt utterly despondent about her future.
2. Despite his efforts to remain optimistic, the constant setbacks left him feeling despondent.
3. The team's despondent attitude was evident after their crushing defeat in the final match.
4. Sitting alone in her room, she couldn't shake the despondent thoughts that plagued her mind.
5. He struggled to find motivation, consumed by a despondent sense of hopelessness.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/despondent>