

DETRACTINGLY

Meaning: Detractingly means in a manner that belittles or disparages someone or something, emphasizing faults or shortcomings.

1. She spoke detractingly about her colleague's achievements, casting doubt on his abilities.
2. The critics reviewed the film detractingly, focusing solely on its flaws rather than its merits.
3. His detractingly sarcastic remarks made it difficult for the team to feel motivated.
4. Despite her detractingly pessimistic outlook, the project eventually succeeded beyond expectations.
5. The article presented the new policy detractingly, highlighting potential issues without acknowledging its benefits.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/detractingly>