DETRACTIOUS

Meaning: Detractious: causing criticism or detracting from someone or something, often leading to misunderstandings or overshadowing positive qualities.

1. The detractious remarks from the critics overshadowed the artist's true talent.
2. In discussions about the project, her detractious comments often led to misunderstandings among team members.
3. His detractious attitude made it difficult for the group to maintain a positive atmosphere.
4. Despite the detractious feedback, the author persevered and published her novel.
5. It was frustrating to see how detractious opinions could derail an otherwise productive conversation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/detractious