

DEVOID

Meaning: Devoid means completely lacking or empty of something.

1. The landscape was devoid of any signs of life after the harsh winter.
2. Her expression was devoid of joy, reflecting the weight of her worries.
3. The novel left me feeling devoid of inspiration, with its predictable plot and characters.
4. Despite the effort put into the project, it was devoid of any real substance or impact.
5. The abandoned house stood tall but was entirely devoid of warmth and comfort.
6. His expression was devoid of emotion, making it difficult to read his thoughts.
7. The room felt devoid of warmth, with its stark white walls and minimal furnishings.
8. She spoke in a tone that was devoid of enthusiasm, leaving the audience unimpressed.
9. The novel was devoid of originality, relying on tired tropes and clichés.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/devoid>