

DIAMONDIZE

Meaning: To diamondize means to enhance or transform something by adding diamond-like qualities or luxurious features, making it appear more valuable or opulent.

1. The artist aimed to diamondize the ordinary objects in her installation, transforming them into stunning displays of luxury.
2. In an effort to diamondize the brand, the company launched a new line of products adorned with sparkling gemstones.
3. When planning the wedding, she wanted to diamondize the ceremony with elegant decor and shimmering accents.
4. His proposal was designed to diamondize the moment, featuring a breathtaking ring that captured the light beautifully.
5. They decided to diamondize their anniversary celebration by booking a lavish venue and hiring a top-notch catering service.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diamondize>