

DIAPHEMETRIC

Meaning: Diaphemtric refers to the properties or characteristics related to the dispersion or scattering of light in materials, particularly in the context of advanced materials science.

1. The scientist explained the diaphemtric properties of the newly discovered mineral.
2. In his lecture, he highlighted the diaphemtric implications for advanced materials.
3. The research team was excited to explore the diaphemtric relationships in their experiment.
4. To understand the phenomenon, they had to analyze the diaphemtric aspects of the data.
5. Her thesis focused on the diaphemtric characteristics that influence ecological systems.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diaphemtric>