

DIAPHORESIS

Meaning: Diaphoresis is the excessive sweating that occurs as a physiological response to heat, exertion, or illness.

1. Diaphoresis can be a common symptom during intense physical exertion.
2. The patient's diaphoresis during the fever raised concerns among the medical staff.
3. In some cases, diaphoresis may indicate an underlying health issue that requires attention.
4. The athlete's diaphoresis was a clear sign of dehydration after the grueling marathon.
5. Doctors often monitor diaphoresis as a vital sign during their assessments of patients.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diaphoresis>