

DICHROSCOPE

Meaning: A dichroscope is an optical instrument used to examine the color variations and pleochroism of gemstones and minerals.

1. A dichroscope is a valuable tool used in gemology to analyze the pleochroism of gemstones.
2. In the laboratory, the scientist employed a dichroscope to observe the color variations in the mineral samples.
3. Understanding how to use a dichroscope is essential for gemologists identifying stones with unique optical properties.
4. The dichroscope revealed that the sapphire displayed different colors when viewed from various angles.
5. During the workshop, participants learned how to interpret results obtained from a dichroscope effectively.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dichroscope>