

DICKER

Meaning: To dicker means to engage in petty bargaining or negotiation over the terms or price of something.

1. They decided to dicker over the price of the antique vase at the flea market.
2. During the negotiation, they began to dicker about the terms of the contract.
3. The two friends would often dicker playfully about who could cook the best dish.
4. It's common to dicker with car salespeople to get a better deal on a vehicle.
5. She was skilled at dicker, always managing to secure the best prices for her clients.
6. We decided to dicker over the price of the antique vase before finalizing the sale.
7. It's common to dicker a bit when buying a used car to ensure you get the best deal.
8. She was known to dicker endlessly at flea markets, haggling for the best prices.
9. After some back and forth, they managed to dicker their way to a mutually agreeable price.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dicker>