

DIFFERENTIALLY

Meaning: Differentially: in a manner that shows or involves differences, especially in treatment or response based on individual characteristics or conditions.

1. The students were graded differentially based on their individual performance.
2. The two species adapted differentially to their respective environments over time.
3. In the experiment, the cells reacted differentially to various concentrations of the drug.
4. The teacher approached the lesson differentially to accommodate the diverse learning styles in the classroom.
5. These two materials expand differentially when exposed to heat, leading to potential structural issues.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/differentially>