

DIFFORM

Meaning: Diff form: to alter or transform the structure or appearance of something, often in a creative or innovative manner.

1. The artist's ability to diff form in her sculptures captivated the audience.
2. In his latest novel, the author sought to diff form traditional storytelling techniques.
3. The architect's design aimed to diff form the usual concepts of urban space.
4. In the dance performance, the dancers skillfully diff form their bodies to express emotion.
5. The innovative product was designed to diff form conventional uses of everyday items.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diform>