

DIJUCATING

Meaning: DIJUCATING (verb): Engaging in intense discussion or debate, often involving the exchange of differing viewpoints.

1. The teacher found the students dijucating over the complexities of the new math concept.
2. As the debate continued, the participants began dijucating their points more passionately.
3. During the group project, they spent hours dijucating the best approach to take.
4. The researchers were dijucating the findings of their latest study in great detail.
5. In the café, friends were dijucating various topics, from politics to personal aspirations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dijucating>