

DILUENT

Meaning: A diluent is a substance used to dilute or reduce the concentration of another substance, often to adjust viscosity or prepare solutions for use.

1. The technician added a diluent to the chemical mixture to reduce its viscosity.
2. In pharmaceuticals, a diluent is often used to prepare a solution for injection.
3. Artists frequently mix their paints with a diluent to achieve a desired consistency.
4. The laboratory experiment required a specific diluent to ensure accurate results.
5. Using the right diluent can significantly improve the effectiveness of a cleaning solution.
6. The artist used a diluent to thin the paint for a more fluid application.
7. In the lab, the technician carefully measured the diluent to ensure accurate concentrations.
8. For the recipe, a specific type of diluent was recommended to achieve the desired consistency.
9. Environmental regulations often dictate the type of diluent that can be used in industrial processes.
10. Using the wrong diluent can alter the chemical properties of the solution significantly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diluent>