

DING

Meaning: DING (noun): a short, sharp sound made by a bell or similar device, often used to indicate an event or signal.

1. The bell let out a loud ding, signaling the end of the class.
2. He heard the distinct ding of the microwave, reminding him that dinner was ready.
3. With a satisfying ding, the elevator doors slid open to reveal the lobby.
4. As soon as the timer went off with a cheerful ding, she rushed to check the cookies.
5. The doorbell made a pleasant ding each time someone entered the shop.
6. The bell let out a loud ding, signaling the end of the meeting.
7. As the oven timer went off with a cheerful ding, she rushed to check the cookies.
8. He was startled by the sudden ding of his phone, alerting him to a new message.
9. She smiled when she heard the familiar ding of her favorite video game starting up.
10. The old clock in the hallway let out a loud ding, marking the hour.
11. She heard the familiar ding of the microwave, signaling her food was ready.
12. As the teacher finished explaining the problem, a ding from the intercom interrupted.
13. The doorbell gave a cheerful ding, announcing the arrival of their guests.
14. With a satisfying ding, the app notified him that his message had been sent.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ding>