

DISAVAUNCE

Meaning: Disavounce: to deny responsibility for or association with something, especially to reject or renounce previous statements or affiliations.

1. In an unexpected turn of events, the politician sought to disavounce his previous statements about the policy.
2. The organization decided to disavounce any connections to the controversial group after public backlash.
3. She made a formal announcement to disavounce the rumors that had been circulating about her intentions.
4. To protect his reputation, he had to disavounce the actions of his former business partner.
5. The actor took to social media to disavounce the claims made about his personal life.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disavaunce>