

DISBIND

Meaning: To disbind means to separate or remove the binding of a book or material, allowing for individual pages or sections to be accessed or restored.

1. The librarian decided to disbind the old volumes to restore their pages individually.
2. During the renovation, the workers had to disbind the wallpaper from the walls carefully.
3. To create a unique piece of art, she chose to disbind the pages of her favorite book.
4. The mechanic needed to disbind several components to access the engine's inner workings.
5. In the restoration process, they aimed to disbind the elements without damaging the original structure.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disbind>