

DISCRIMINABLE

Meaning: Discriminable: capable of being recognized or distinguished as different.

1. The differences between the two species are easily discriminable to a trained eye.
2. In the field of linguistics, certain phonetic sounds are discriminable by native speakers but not by non-native speakers.
3. When examining the artwork, the subtle nuances become discriminable under different lighting conditions.
4. The researchers aimed to identify discriminable traits that could indicate environmental adaptations.
5. Despite their similarities, the two models have discriminable features that appeal to different consumer preferences.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/discriminable>