

DISCULPATORY

Meaning: Disciplinary refers to evidence or statements that serve to clear someone of blame or guilt.

1. The defendant presented disciplinary evidence that could potentially exonerate him.
2. Her disciplinary remarks during the meeting helped alleviate the tension among the team.
3. In his speech, he offered a disciplinary rationale for his past decisions, hoping to gain the audience's trust.
4. The lawyer emphasized the importance of gathering disciplinary documents to support their case.
5. Despite the overwhelming evidence against her, she maintained a disciplinary stance, insisting on her innocence.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disciplinary>