

DISCURSIST

Meaning: A discursist is a person who engages in or is skilled at discourse, particularly in a formal or eloquent manner, often discussing complex topics or ideas.

1. The renowned discursist captivated the audience with his eloquent remarks on society's complexities.
2. In her latest book, the author presents herself as a discursist, weaving intricate narratives about human experiences.
3. During the debate, the discursist skillfully navigated through opposing viewpoints, offering profound insights.
4. As a discursist, he excelled in connecting philosophical concepts with everyday life in a relatable manner.
5. The professor encouraged his students to embrace the role of a discursist in their writing to enhance their analytical skills.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/discursist>