

DISINTERESS

Meaning: Disinterested: lacking personal interest or involvement; impartial.

1. The committee's decision seemed disinterested, lacking any personal investment in the outcome.
2. Despite his disinterested demeanor, he secretly cared about the project's success.
3. She approached the debate with a disinterested perspective, focusing solely on the facts presented.
4. In the courtroom, the judge maintained a disinterested attitude to ensure a fair trial.
5. His disinterested opinion on the matter surprised everyone, given his usual enthusiasm.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disinterest>