

DISINTEREST

Meaning: Disinterest refers to a lack of interest or concern in a subject or activity.

1. Her disinterest in the topic was evident as she stared blankly at the presentation.
2. Despite his attempts to engage her in conversation, her disinterest made it clear she wanted to leave.
3. The committee expressed disinterest in the proposal, citing a lack of relevance to their goals.
4. As the years went by, his disinterest in the project grew, leading to its eventual abandonment.
5. She approached the event with disinterest, believing it would be just another mundane gathering.
6. His disinterest in the project was evident during the team meetings.
7. Despite her friends' enthusiasm, she remained disinterested in the latest trends.
8. The student's disinterest in the subject matter led to a decline in his grades.
9. He approached the topic with a disinterest that surprised his colleagues.
10. Her disinterest in the conversation made it awkward for everyone involved.
11. His disinterest in the project became apparent during the meeting.
12. Despite her initial enthusiasm, she soon showed a disinterest in the topic.
13. The student's disinterest in the subject led to poor grades.
14. He tried to engage the audience, but their disinterest was palpable.
15. Her disinterest in social events often left her feeling isolated.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disinterest>