

DISINTERESTEDNESS

Meaning: Disinterestedness refers to the quality of being impartial and unbiased, showing no personal interest or stake in the outcome of a situation.

1. Her disinterestedness in the outcome of the competition surprised everyone, as she usually invested so much in her projects.
2. The judge's disinterestedness was crucial in ensuring a fair and unbiased decision in the case.
3. In a world often driven by self-interest, his disinterestedness stood out as a rare and admirable trait.
4. The professor emphasized the importance of disinterestedness in academic research to maintain integrity and objectivity.
5. Despite the heated debates, her disinterestedness allowed her to mediate the discussions with remarkable grace.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disinterestedness>