DISJOINTLY

Meaning: DISJOINTLY: In a manner that is disconnected or lacking coherence, resulting in confusion or interruption.

1. The conversation flowed disjointly, with each person interrupting the other.
2. She articulated her thoughts disjointly, leaving the audience confused about her main point.
3. As the team discussed the project, their ideas were presented disjointly, lacking cohesion.
4. He moved through the dance routine disjointly, struggling to keep up with the rhythm.
5. The film's narrative unfolded disjointly, jumping between different timelines without warning.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disjointly