

DISJUNCTIVELY

Meaning: Disjunctively means in a manner that presents options or ideas separately or distinctly, requiring a choice between them.

1. The theories were presented disjunctively, forcing the audience to choose between them.
2. In the debate, the candidates addressed issues disjunctively, highlighting their differing perspectives.
3. Her thoughts flowed disjunctively, making it difficult for her to convey a cohesive argument.
4. The instructions were laid out disjunctively, allowing users to follow the steps independently.
5. He approached the problem disjunctively, considering multiple solutions without attempting to integrate them.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disjunctively>