

DISKINDNESS

Meaning: Diskindness is the quality of being unkind or lacking compassion, often resulting in discomfort or hurt feelings in social interactions.

1. Her blatant diskindness during the discussion left everyone feeling uncomfortable and disheartened.
2. Despite his usual charm, a moment of diskindness slipped through when he dismissed her ideas without consideration.
3. The diskindness she exhibited towards her colleagues ultimately damaged her reputation in the office.
4. Even in moments of disagreement, a little empathy can go a long way to soften diskindness into constructive criticism.
5. The diskindness displayed by some members of the group made it clear that not everyone was on the same page regarding teamwork.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/diskindness>