

DISOBLIGATORY

Meaning: Disobligatory: characterized by a lack of willingness to assist or accommodate others; unhelpful or dismissive.

1. His remarks were disobligatory, making it clear he had no intention of helping with the project.
2. The disobligatory tone in her voice suggested she was not interested in hearing any further suggestions.
3. Despite his disobligatory attitude, the team managed to complete the task ahead of schedule.
4. She found his disobligatory remarks particularly frustrating during the team meeting.
5. The disobligatory nature of his response left her feeling unsupported in her efforts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/disobligatory>