DISPRAISINGLY

Meaning: DISPRAISINGLY: in a manner that expresses disapproval or criticism.

1. The critics spoke dispraisingly of the film's plot, highlighting its numerous flaws.
2. She raised her eyebrows and looked at him dispraisingly, clearly unimpressed by his excuse.
3. His dispraisingly tone during the meeting left little doubt about his feelings toward the proposal.
4. They dismissed her ideas dispraisingly, failing to recognize the value in her perspective.
5. The teacher responded dispraisingly to the student's lack of effort, encouraging him to try harder.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dispraisingly