

DISSERTATION

Meaning: A dissertation is a lengthy, formal written document presenting original research and findings, typically submitted as part of a doctoral degree requirement.

1. The student spent countless hours in the library preparing her dissertation on climate change impacts.
2. After months of research and writing, he finally submitted his dissertation to the academic committee.
3. Her dissertation explored the relationship between social media usage and mental health among teenagers.
4. The professor praised the originality and depth of analysis in his doctoral dissertation.
5. Completing a dissertation is often seen as the most challenging part of earning a PhD.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dissertation>