

DISSIMULOUR

Meaning: DISSIMULOUR (adjective): characterized by a deceptive or misleading appearance, often masking true intentions or feelings.

1. The politician's dissimulour demeanor made it difficult to trust his promises.
2. Despite her dissimulour charm, many sensed her insincerity during the meeting.
3. He maintained a dissimulour attitude, masking his true feelings behind a facade of indifference.
4. The dissimulour nature of the sales pitch left the customers feeling deceived.
5. Her dissimulour tactics were eventually uncovered, leading to a loss of credibility.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dissimulour>