

DISSUNDER

Meaning: DISSUNDER (verb): to cause to separate or break apart, particularly in relationships or unity.

1. The constant disagreements began to dissunder their once strong friendship.
2. Efforts to bridge the gap only seemed to dissunder the community further.
3. The scandal had the potential to dissunder the previously united team.
4. As tensions rose, the conflicting opinions began to dissunder the entire group.
5. It was heartbreaking to watch the events unfold and dissunder their family ties.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dissunder>