

DISTINCTIVELY

Meaning: In a manner that is clearly recognizable and characteristic, setting something apart from others.

1. The artist's painting style is distinctively vibrant, capturing the essence of the landscape.
2. Her accent was distinctively different from those of her peers, hinting at her unique background.
3. The dish was distinctively seasoned, making it a favorite among the restaurant's patrons.
4. He wore a distinctively patterned tie that caught everyone's attention during the meeting.
5. The novel was distinctively written in a way that blended humor with profound insights.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/distinctively>