

DOUSING-CHOCK

Meaning: Dousing-chock: a device or support used to stabilize and prevent movement of heavy loads or equipment during construction or adverse conditions.

1. The engineer recommended using a dousing-chock to stabilize the load during the construction process.
2. After the storm, they relied on the dousing-chock to prevent any further shifting of the heavy equipment.
3. In the workshop, the technician explained how a dousing-chock can enhance safety while lifting materials.
4. They noticed that implementing a dousing-chock significantly reduced the risk of accidents on the job site.
5. The dousing-chock was crucial in ensuring the platform remained level throughout the assembly phase.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dousing-chock>