

DREADINGLY

Meaning: DREADINGLY (adverb): In a manner characterized by apprehension or fear about something unpleasant that may happen.

1. She approached the podium, dreadingly glancing at the audience filled with expectant faces.
2. He opened the email dreadingly, fearing the bad news it might contain.
3. They dreadingly prepared for the long journey ahead, unsure of what challenges awaited them.
4. As the deadline loomed closer, she dreadingly revised her work, anxious about the outcome.
5. The children stood dreadingly at the edge of the dark forest, hesitant to enter.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dreadingly>