

DRIP

Meaning: Drip (noun): a small, continuous flow of liquid falling drop by drop.

1. The coffee pot had a slow drip that made it hard to concentrate on my reading.
2. As the rain began to fall, I could hear the steady drip of water from the roof.
3. She watched the paint drip from the brush, a mesmerizing flow of color.
4. After the storm, a single drip of water fell from the eaves, signaling the end of the downpour.
5. The sound of a drip from the leaky faucet kept me awake all night.
6. The faucet was so old that it had started to drip incessantly throughout the night.
7. As the ice melted in her glass, droplets began to drip down the sides, catching the light beautifully.
8. He watched the paint drip from the brush onto the canvas, creating an unexpected masterpiece.
9. After the rain, a single drop began to drip from the edge of the roof, splashing onto the pavement below.
10. She could hear the sound of water dripping in the quiet of the abandoned cabin, echoing through the stillness.
11. The cold water began to drip from the leaky faucet, echoing through the quiet kitchen.
12. She watched as the paint slowly began to drip down the canvas, creating an unexpected masterpiece.
13. After the rain, a single drop would occasionally drip from the edge of the roof onto the ground below.
14. His heart raced as he heard the sound of a drip in the dark, wondering if it was just the plumbing or something more sinister.
15. She filled the tea kettle and waited for the water to drip through the filter, filling her cup with steaming goodness.

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/drip>