

DRIPPLE

Meaning: Drip (verb): to fall or flow in small drops or streams, often used to describe the gradual release of liquid.

1. The candle began to drip wax onto the table as it burned late into the night.
2. After the rain, small droplets continued to drip from the leaves above.
3. As the ice melted, the sound of water dripping into the bowl became soothing.
4. I watched the paint drip down the canvas, creating a beautiful abstract pattern.
5. The faucet was slightly loose, causing it to drip steadily throughout the day.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/drip>