

DROPT

Meaning: "DROPT" is the past participle of "drop," meaning to let something fall or to cease to hold one's breath in astonishment.

1. She had dropt her keys on the way to the car and had to search for them.
2. The actor's performance was so powerful that the audience seemed to have dropt their breath in awe.
3. In his excitement, he had completely dropt the ball during the game.
4. The temperature had dropt significantly overnight, surprising everyone in the morning.
5. When she realized she had dropt the important document, panic set in immediately.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dropt>