

DUBBER

Meaning: A dubber is a person who provides voice-over work, typically for characters in films, television shows, or video games, often translating and adapting dialogue into different languages.

1. The dubber provided an impressive voice for the lead character in the animated film.
2. After years of practice, she finally became a sought-after dubber in the industry.
3. The dubber skillfully matched the emotions of the original actor, bringing the character to life.
4. In the world of foreign films, a talented dubber is crucial for maintaining the story's impact.
5. He decided to pursue a career as a dubber after falling in love with the art of voice acting.
6. The talented dubber brought the animated character to life with their vibrant voice.
7. After years of hard work, she finally landed a role as a dubber for a popular foreign film.
8. The dubber's unique vocal range allowed them to portray multiple characters seamlessly.
9. Fans were thrilled to discover that their favorite actor was also a skilled dubber.
10. The casting director praised the dubber's ability to match the original actor's emotion perfectly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dubber>