

DUEBILL

Meaning: A duebill is a formal document indicating an amount owed for services rendered or goods received, typically issued when payment is overdue.

1. The company issued a duebill for the unpaid services rendered last month.
2. After reviewing the invoice, she realized she needed to settle the duebill before the deadline.
3. The contractor provided a duebill to ensure all outstanding payments were accounted for.
4. He was surprised to receive a duebill in the mail, as he thought all his payments were up to date.
5. To maintain good standing, it's important to pay the duebill promptly and avoid late fees.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/duebill>