DULCIFICATION

Meaning: Dulcification refers to the process of making something sweeter, gentler, or more pleasant, often by softening harsh or severe qualities.

1. The dulcification of the harsh landscape transformed it into a serene paradise.

2. In her efforts for conflict resolution, she believed in the dulcification of her approach to communication.

3. The artist's use of soft colors in her paintings was a form of dulcification that appealed to many viewers.

4. During the meeting, the manager's dulcification of the project's challenges helped ease employees' concerns.

5. The dulcification of the complex rules made the game more accessible to new players.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dulcification